She Is, A collection of positive affirmation poetry created to inspire and empower children to embrace their self-worth and express self-love.

Stay true to yourself!

You are everything you Believe yourself to be!

Charde Vera has had a passion for books and journaling since she was a child. Her dream has always been to write and publish books. Along with "She Is" she has created an affirmation journal as well as another book called "He Is". She lives in New York with her husband and two children. With her 11 year daughter being the illustrator of both her books.

She plans to continue to keep writing books and reminding and inspiring all the importance of Believing, Trusting and Loving themselves.
